

Spreading awareness empowers people with knowledge and encourages them toward climate action. And every insignificant-looking act pushes us towards a better planet.

Read More...

It is not news that climate change has added to the existing penury, gender inequality and educational poverty. The key to safeguarding the vulnerable is to preserve the planet from the irreversible effects of climate change.

Read more...

Effects of changing climate that scientists had predicted in the past are occurring now. To protect ourselves from future consequences of the climate crisis, change is a necessity. Don't switch off this reminder today, act on it all year long.

Read more...